

APPENDIX A

PUBLIC INVOLVEMENT

SUMMARY OF PUBLIC INVOLVEMENT PROCESS:

WRATS TRANSPORTATION IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM: FY 2015 - FY 2018

Introduction

The Warner Robins Area Transportation Study (WRATS) is the designated Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO) for transportation planning purposes within the Warner Robins urbanized area. The WRATS study area includes the cities of Byron, Centerville, Perry and Warner Robins. Houston County, northern Peach County and Robins Air Force Base are also included. Under federal law, the Warner Robins Area Transportation Study must develop a long-range plan and short-term program for transportation improvements within this area through a cooperative process involving the local governments and the Georgia Department of Transportation (GDOT).

The short-term program, known as the WRATS Transportation Improvement Program: FY 2015-2018 (TIP), indicates the Warner Robins urbanized area's transportation priorities for a four year period, and demonstrates how the area will apply federal, state, local and private financial resources to implement these projects. In order to be eligible for any level of federal funding, a project must be in the WRATS Long Range Transportation Plan and the TIP.

The TIP lists street and highway construction projects by the federal funding categories. The TIP projects are those, which have been authorized and allocated for the State's construction work program, according to the proposed scheduling and phasing for FY 2015-2018.

Public Notice/Review Period Guidelines

Public Review Process:

A key element of the process to develop a TIP is public involvement. The public was invited to review and submit comments on the WRATS Transportation Improvement Program: FY 2015-2018. Copies of the document were available at the following locations from September 24 through October 23, 2014: Warner Robins City Hall, Transportation Planner's office; Houston County Annex, Commissioners Office; Centerville City Hall, City Clerk's Office; Perry City Hall, Community Development Department; and Byron City Hall, Public Works Department. A copy of the TIP was also located on the City of Warner Robins website at www.wrga.gov

Amendment Process:

If the Policy Committee determines that the final plan or program differs significantly from the one which was made available for public comment, and raises new material issues which interested parties could not reasonably have foreseen from the public involvement efforts, an additional 15 days for public comment on the revised plan or program shall be made available. If the Policy Committee determines it necessary to amend the final plan or program, the Policy Committee may approve the proposed amendment(s) subject to a 15-day public review and comment period. If no significant comments are received, the amendment(s) will stand as approved with no further action. If comments are received which the MPO staff considers as potentially significant, the comments will be presented to the Policy Committee for consideration and appropriate action.

Notice

Notice of the FY 2015-2018 TIP public comment period was placed in the Houston Home Journal newspaper on September 24, 2014. A copy of the public notice is attached to this document for reference purposes.
